ONE TON OF "PROPS" FOR SERMONS

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 28 — More than a ton of specialized equipment will be placed on the stage of the Porterville Memorial auditorium when Dr. George Speake presents "Sermons From Science" each evening at 7:30 o'clock, December 2 through December 6 under sponsorship of the Porterville Ministerial association.

The demonstrations are designed to show the harmony that exists between true science and true religion. The nightly programs are open to the public; there is no admission charge.

Following the findings of numerous scientists over the years, Dr. Speake, of the Moody Institute of Science staff, will demonstrate that many things looked upon by some as Biblical myths can be supported by scientific facts, and that the natural laws of the uni-

Sno-White Drive-In Goes Up On Avenue

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 28 — Newest business building is going up along the avenue at the three-way intersection — Main, East Bellevue and Division — where a Sno-White Drive-in is being constructed by Bob Lutz. (No, Bob is not going to run it; it's a lease deal.)

And taking form also are walls for the new addition to the Porterville city library.

"Southwest Corner" Next Barn Production

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 28 — Jean Hoerner will direct "Southwest Corner", the next Porterville Barn theater production, that will open next January 10 at the Barn. Casting for the show is now being completed.

THE MAGIC of modern chemistry will be shown as part of the "Sermons From Science" demonstrations that will be presented in the Porterville Memorial auditorium, December 2-6, under sponsorship of the Porterville Ministerial association. Over 2,000 pounds of specialized laboratory equipment from Moody Institute of Science will be placed on the stage for the program. Each nightly show, set for 7:30 o'clock, will be different; there is no admission charge.

County Realtors Ask Supervisors To Hold Up Area Zoning Commission Plan Until Study Can Be Completed

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 28 — Planning and zoning committee of the Visalia and Tulare Realty boards, and of the Orange Belt Board of Realtors have asked the Tulare county board of supervisors, as well as cities that have not already taken action, to hold up on proposed formation of an area planning commission.

The action was taken at a meeting Monday evening at Ray's Porter cafe in Porterville. The group also voted to meet in Visalia, December 9, at which time Bert Muhly, county planning engineer, will be invited to explain the proposed plan.

Present at the Porterville meeting were: Realtors D. V. Olson, president of the Visalia Realty board, his chairman, James P. Coopman and committee members Roy A. Nunn and Harold G. Rainwater; from Tulare were Realtors Roy Niday, president, and his committee chairman, John Iacono, and from the Orange Belt Board of Realtors, which represents Lindsay, Strathmore, Porterville, Springville and Terra Bella were Realtors Roy A. Hill, chairman of the Multiple Listing division; Glenn R. Cline, chairman, and Sterling Ensign, J. D. Frost, West Kutner, F. M. Moore and Harold G. Brittell, members of the Planning and Zoning committee; Sarah Traeger, executive-secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Harold G. Brittell.

EXECUTIVE CLUB TO HEAR "MOUNTY"

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 28 — Members of Porterville's Executive club will hear Sydney R. Montague, former Royal Canadian Mounted Police officer, adventurer, and philosopher, at a dinner meeting of the club, Saturday night, 7 o'clock, at the Porterville Women's clubhouse.

television filming session in Bakersfield. Doctor Winn proved to be not only photogenic but a rather adept "pitch man" for patient rehabilitation. In fact, his information proved to be so interesting that "clips" of his television film announcement will be shown at leading theaters in Tulare county, as part of the local association's annual Christmas Seal Sale campaign.

Valley Bulls To Hereford Sale In Fresno

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 28 — Six San Joaquin valley breeders, including two from Tulare county, have consigned to the fourth annual bull sale that will be conducted by the California Polled Hereford association at the district fair grounds in Fresno, Saturday, December 7.

Gladys Cooper of Tipton is offering three lots; Luther V. Patterson, of Lindsay is also offering three lots. Other valley consignors are: Case & Case, of Reedley; F. E. Crews, Lemo; M. D. Hereford ranch, Lodi, and Floyd E. Slocum of Hanford.

A show, starting at 9 a.m., will precede the sale; time for the sale has been set as 12:30 p.m.

Sale manager is W. C. Glover; judge will be Prof. Ed. Rousek; auctioneer will be Howard Brown. Cyrille Faure, secretary of the California Polled Hereford association, states that a luncheon will be served on the fairgrounds between judging of cattle and sale time; an association directors meeting will be held immediately after the sale.

Mrs. Deane Wilstam Wins $267.50 In Silver Bonus Contest Tuesday

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 28 — Mrs. Deane Wilstam was $267.50 richer Tuesday evening than she was Tuesday morning just because her name was selected as the week's Silver Bonus winner, and because she had a sales slip from Bullards, a Silver Bonus store.

Mrs. Wilstam, who resides at 415 West Bellevue, when told that her name had come up, could only say, "Oh no, it can't be true."

A check for the $267.50 Silver Bonus was picked up yesterday by Mrs. Wilstam at the J. B. Hill company, featured Silver Bonus store of the week.

Next Tuesday, Silver bonus goes back to the weekly $25.00 — an amount that you might win if you make some of your Christmas purchases in Silver Bonus stores next Tuesday.

For details of the Silver Bonus contest, see the Silver Bonus pages in this issue of The Tribune.

Remember — someone wins something every week in the Silver Bonus contest.

SENATOR AND MRS. KNOWLAND TO ARRIVE IN PORTERVILLE FOR EVENING DINNER FOLLOWING VISALIA RECEPTION DEC. 7

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 28 — Time schedule for the visit of United States Senator William F. Knowland to Tulare county on Saturday, December 7, has been announced for Visalia and Porterville.

At 4:30 p.m. press, radio and television representatives will be invited to a press conference with the Senator at the Hotel Johnson, in Visalia.

From 5:00 p.m. until 6:15 p.m. a public reception will be given at the Hotel Johnson.

At 7:30 p.m. the Senator will be in Porterville for an evening dinner at the Porterville high school cafeteria.

There will be no charge for the reception; a "cost" charge of $3.00 is being made for dinner tickets. All interested persons are invited to these events.

During his visit to Tulare county, Senator Knowland will be accompanied by his wife, Helen Herrick Knowland.

The Senator and Mrs. Knowland will come into Tulare county from Fresno, where they will

FARMERS ASKED TO STUDY ZONING

BURTON, Nov. 28 — Bert Muhly, county planning engineer, urged farmers of the Burton area to study a sample agricultural zoning ordinance and make suggestions for changes at a meeting, called by Porterville Irrigation district directors at the Burton school last Friday evening.

Muhly said that the Tulare county zoning ordinance is being rewritten and that a section covering agricultural zoning will be included in the new ordinance.

He urged farmers to study a sample ordinance that has been circulated through various farm centers and that is available at the county planning commission office in Visalia so that county planners will be able to draft a final ordinance that is satisfactory to farmers.

"Red pencil what you don't like," he told farmers at the Burton meeting.

Muhly said that whatever is written into the new county zoning ordinance would not become operative in any given area until application of the ordinance was asked in that area.

Certain provisions, including (Continued on Page 9)

KAREN MAYS TO NATIONAL MEET

SUCCESS VALLEY, Nov. 28 — Karen Mays, Success Valley 4-H, is leaving today in the California delegation of 4-H club members who will attend the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, December 1-5.

Other delegates from Tulare county are: Francis "Butch" Andreas, Columbine, and Richard Haddock, Liberty. Haddock won the state tractor contest, Miss Mays and Andreas won educational awards from the Santa Fe Railway as state first alternates in girls' home economics and boys' agricultural contests, respectively.

COUNT YOUR BLESSINGS

A good shot of old-fashioned Thanksgiving is just what this country needs.

We mean the real old-fashioned Thanksgiving, the festival of Thanksgiving for the mercies of the closing year, in which families sit down to count their blessings and to consider the good things about living.

Back in 1621, when the Pilgrims joined America's first Thanksgiving, there was little indeed to be thankful for, when you compare 1621 with 1957.

Little indeed to be thankful for?

Well, the Pilgrims certainly didn't have the conveniences that we have today. No televisions, automobiles, airplanes; little assurance that there would be food on the table for supper, or for that matter, little assurance that their scalps would still be on their heads come supper time.

And schools, highways, cities, entertainment, culture, spare time for shows and golf and other recreation; these things that we seem to believe are so essential how-a-days were not even thought of by the Pilgrims.

So here we sit, surrounded by everything under the sun that is supposed to make living easier, more bountiful; yet with all of these modern devices for fuller living, we still seem to find plenty to complain about.

It's a shot of old-fashioned Thanksgiving that we need today; for we have the same things to be thankful for the Pilgrims had: Our families, our friends, our freedoms, our home, our bountiful tables, our opportunity for satisfying living.

So on this Thanksgiving day, do just as the Pilgrims did — Count your blessings; neighbors, count your blessings.

We Only Heard

By BILL RODGERS

IF SOMEONE had the power to tell you, and make it stick, that in order to farm your land you had to pay dues into the Farm Bureau; or that in order to operate your business, you had to pay dues into the Merchants association, you would be pretty hot under the collar, so hot in fact, that you would rebel, quickly and violently.

AND IF someone tried to compel you to join a church, or affiliate with a political party, or pay dues into a veterans organization — we are talking about compelling you to do these things — you would fight for your civil rights under the constitution of the United States.

WOULDN'T YOU?

YET WE have the situation in this state and in the nation where men, and women, are being compelled to pay dues into a union, or lose their jobs. We call this compulsory unionism, which is just as foreign to our American way of life as compulsory church membership, compulsory Farm Bureau membership, compulsory Merchant committee membership, compulsory veteran organization membership or compulsory political party membership.

THE ALTERNATIVE to dictatorial compulsory union membership is voluntary unionism; the problem is just that simple.

AND TO Samuel L. Gompers, credited as being the founder of organized labor, there was no problem, for Samuel Gompers said, "I want to urge devotion to fundamentals of human liberty . . . the principles of voluntarism. No lasting gain has ever come from compulsion. If we seek to force, we but tear apart that which, united, is invincible."

IN THE months ahead we will hear much about this matter of compulsory and voluntary unionism. As you read and listen, remember this: A cause that is right, and just, relies basically on principle, not compulsion.

Colorful and flavorful, these easy-to-make tomato aspic molds add a cheerful note to a hot bisque and cold meat supper. Prepared with apple-flavored gelatin and tomato juice, they are seasoned to perfection with grated onion, prepared horse-radish and, for an extra ping — a dash of cayenne.

Easy Tomato Aspic

1 package apple-flavored gelatin	1-1/2 teaspoons prepared horse-radish
1 cup hot tomato juice	1 teaspoon salt
1 cup cold tomato juice	Das of cayenne

Dissolve gelatin in hot tomato juice. Add cold tomato juice, horse-radish, onion, salt, and cayenne. Pour into individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

ROBERTA HUGHES INSTALLED AT PRAIRIE CENTER

PRAIRIE CENTER, Nov. 28 — Roberta Hughes has been installed as president of the Prairie Center 4-H club; other officers are: Hazel Noel, vice president; Renetta Glover, secretary; Judy Spitler, treasurer; Barbara Terry, song leader; Marvin Hughes and Jerry Hefner, reporters and Marvin Awbrey, sergeant-at-arms.

A Christmas party was planned for the December 17 meeting of the club, with each member to bring a 25-cent exchange gift. Club members have agreed to cooperate with the Ducor 4-H club in the building of a dressing room on the Porterville fair grounds.

At the installation meeting, yearly program and goals were read and approved; Ann Nickel and Mary Jean gave a sewing demonstration; Gerry Hefner reported that the club's float had taken second place in the 1957 Veterans' Homecoming parade in Porterville; Marvin Awbrey was introduced as a Tulare County 4-H All-Star.

The club enjoyed a hay ride and wiener roast last Saturday.

CONVERSION OF BRUSH TO GRASS WOULD BRING ENOUGH WATER TO COVER FRESNO COUNTY A FOOT DEEP

FRESNO, Nov. 21 — Enough extra water to cover Fresno county nearly a foot deep would run off California brushlands if they were converted to grass.

That is the conclusion of a University of California irrigation professor, Robert H. Burg, from studies of erosion and runoff on brushlands converted to range. Working first with small test plots and now with increasingly large watershed installations, he has found that converting to grass in various locations of California increased average yearly runoff by about two acre-inches per acre.

Speaking at the recent annual meeting of the California Farm Bureau, Burg said that authorities have estimated such conversion could be applied to 10 million California acres suitable for grazing and perhaps to another 10 million acres where the only purpose would be an increase in water runoff.

The increase would mean not only more water for downstream users, but the quality of their water would be improved. There would be less silt in it, because converting from brush to grass means less erosion.

THE OLD DAYS

March, 1900

PORTEVILLE — William Thomas, president of the Pioneer Land company, and P. N. Lillenthal, who is interested in the bank, are spending a few days in Porterville.

Hyman Mitchell is here from White River.

The now middle-aged men who attended school here when J. S. McPhail taught in the "old schoolhouse" often meet and talk over those school days. Mr. McPhail had a bustling crowd of 70 to instruct and watch in 1875, and he no doubt recalls that term as one of the busiest times of his life.

Those who heard Joaquin Miller, the poet, lecture in Porterville, and who probably criticized much in the man and his discourse, should read his "Passing of Tennyson," and then draw conclusions. The man who can write such thoughts must feel them and be like them.

Porterville has grown a great deal in the past 10 years and it is

COLLEGE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION TO EXPAND PROGRAM

PORTEVILLE, Nov. 8 — The Porterville College Alumni association has planned an active program for wider support of the entire school program, as well as for more alumni group social activities.

Vic Slayman of Lindsay, president, said directors at their last meeting had discussed plans for a scholarship fund to help outstanding high school boy and girl graduates attend college.

The alumni group also will seek closer coordination with the college student council in mutual problem areas, and will ask student body officers to serve as ex-officio members of the association's board of directors.

The directors discussed plans for issuing an alumni bulletin several times yearly, and for a possible spring season reunion or dance as well as the regular fall homecoming meeting.

Other officers of the alumni group are Mrs. Sidney Longacre of Lindsay, vice president; Diane Stevenson of Porterville, secretary-treasurer; and Judge R. D. Baird of Strathmore, Joe Faure Jr., Hank Brovelli, Mrs. Robert Nuckols, Arthur Van Horn and O. H. Shires, directors.

By the time this column appears in print we will be in Alaska, having been honored with an invitation to observe first hand the affects of oil drilling on wildlife.

Whether or not we will have the time to do any fishing or hunting remains to be seen. One thing for certain, we expect to run several hundred feet of film through our 16mm Bell and Howell.

Alaska has recently set new non resident license fees as follows: Fishing $6.75; big game $54.25; small game $14.25, big game and fishing $58.25 and for a 7-day visitor's fishing license $4.75. Furthermore, a guide is no longer a legal requirement except for bear hunting but a guide is still a good idea.

This trip to the far north has been brought about by the action of the former Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay revising the regulations that permitted oil exploration and drilling on wildlife refuges including the wild game ranges of Alaska.

Shortly after the new secretary, Fred A. Seaton was sworn into office he commenced a program of again revising the regulations to prohibit or greatly restrict oil operations that were believed to be in conflict with the welfare of wildlife.

As a matter of fact the Department of Interior will hold a public hearing on the proposed regulations as revised in Washington D.C., on December 9 at which time there may be a certain amount of "fur flying" between conservation and commercial interests.

In a personal letter to me from Charles H. Callison of the National Wildlife Federation, he states, "As you know, oil has been discovered via a successful test well on the Kenai Moose Range under a lease issued during the period when the Department of Interior was handing out such leases on wild lands on a free and easy basis. So further oil development on the Kenai is inevitable. Our effort must be directed toward controlling the operations in order to do as little damage as possible to the moose range."

The Anchorage chamber of commerce has contracted with the Arctic Institute of America to send Albert M. Day, former director of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service to Alaska to make a survey of the probable effects upon wildlife by a network of proposed roads into and through the Kenai Moose Range in order to do seismographic explorations. At least one oil company is seeking permission to construct such roads.

Perhaps we shall see our old friend Al Day, but in any event our column for next week will be mailed from Wildlife's last frontierland.

Most automobile owners expect their insurance companies to provide "fair and speedy claims treatment". Yet a substantial number of these experiencing a loss, don't like the way their claims were handled. Thus reports a new survey of the automobile insurance market.

The highest percentage of "dissatisfaction" occurred with those auto owners who used direct-writing, low-rate companies.

For example, 19.5% of such owners were not pleased with the handling of their collision claims. And 30% of all auto owners are dissatisfied with the treatment received when claims are filed against others who are insured in such companies.

As added proof, a high proportion of those auto owners who shifted from low-rate companies did so because they were dissatisfied with the way a claim was settled.

The important service we can offer to automobile owners is this: Sincere counsel and explanation of all coverages — and "fair and speedy" claims treatment.

If this is the kind of service you really want, we invite you to stop by our office.

initial petitions, public hearings and action by the board of supervisors, would be necessary, as in other types of zoning, before an agricultural zone would actually be set down in any area, he said.

Importance of agricultural zoning now is not only to protect farming land from other types of development, but to also take advantage of a 1957 state legislative act that puts the assessing of farm property within an agricultural zone on a basis of agricultural value only.

Muhly discussed general zoning in addition to agricultural zoning, telling of forthcoming developments that he said will make zoning more important as the county develops.

He said that the area planning commission plan, and area zoning, are entirely different from agricultural zoning, and cautioned farmers not to confuse the two.

It was suggested at the Burton meeting that the Burton Farm Center set up a study committee to check over the county's sample agricultural zoning plan. No action on this has been taken as yet.

Muhly has been presenting information on agricultural zoning at a number of Farm Center, and other farm organization meetings, throughout the county.

In all of them he is urging that farmers study agricultural zoning and work with the county plan-ra View hospital paint job is that the plastic painting was necessary as a "filler" for brick used in the hospital; by using the brick that required the filler, building cost was cut, we are told. More on this later, perhaps.

WHAT MIGHT be called the third phase of history in Success valley is being written today, with major construction work under way on the re-routing of highway 190 along the east side of the Tule river to swing around the Success dam and reservoir site. Above photo shows work on a bridge that will span the south fork of the Tule, also a fill that is being made on both sides of the bridge site. The re-routed 190 will follow up the south side of the Tule from Porterville, through the Worth district, and will tie into the present 190 just south of the old Orange school. Major improvement and relocation work is also underway from the old Orange school along the Frazier valley highway.

ADA at Porterville high school is 109 students over last year; seven less teachers are on the faculty.

"The Mad Woman of Chaillott" will be at the Barn theater December 5-7, as portrayed by the Porterville college drama department.

Porterville's finest — the 130-piece high school band — leaves for Long Beach Friday morning to compete for the fourth consecutive year in the All-Western band review. Director Frank Shaffer and his boys and girls are just about ready to hit the top spot.

Pro and con are the comments on the establishing of the office of county administrator by the county board of supervisors, effective the first of the year. If you want to administer the county at $9,804 to $12,228 per year, stop by the office of The Farm Tribune. We have an application form.

Mass treatment of patients and employees at the Porterville State hospital for amebiasis was started Monday.

Southern Tulare County Sportsmen's association will oppose the placing of doves on the protected bird list at an Assembly interim committee hearing at the Moose Lodge hall in Visalia, 10 a.m., next Thursday.

Final services were held Saturday for Charles Jackson Byers, a resident of the Porterville area for 70 years. Death this week claimed William Waggle, 93, a resident of Porterville for 26 years. Frank Eckles, a resident of Porterville for 40 years, and who came to California in 1885, died Tuesday.

Funeral service was conducted yesterday in Fresno for J. A. Harris, who, about 1925, built the first cotton gin in Porterville.

Open house at the New Sierra View hospital is planned in the near future; district directors and Laurence J. Billou, discussed purchase of the corner property at Jaye and Putnam, bordered on two sides by the hospital ground. A cost of around $21,000 was mentioned to relocate Billou's business and purchase the property.

In the course of the lectures, solid metal will be made to float in air, an egg will be fried on a cold stove, an ordinary suitcase will be given a mind of its own, and Dr. Speake will discharge over a million volts of electricity through his body.

Dr. Speake was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania with a degree in mechanical engineering, receiving the Senior Engineering award. He served in the Naval Air force for 10 years as a pilot, and won the Bronze Star for meritorious achievement during World War II and now holds a permanent commission as Commander in the Naval Reserve Air force.
